Rotogravure Now Reality

Section Now Made Available
To All Students For
One Nickel

A Rotogravure section with every other Sem! First this was a possibility, now it is a reality. The Rotogravure section is called the Scholastic Roto-Review and Pic. It has the approval of all the members of the Sem Staff and of many of the faculty. It has eight pages filled with national news, high school news, and everything else of interest to high school students.

To have this supplement come with the Sem for the rest of the semester, a student needs only to pay five cents.

If a student is sceptical he should come into the Sem office and look at the copy of the first edition on the bulletin board. Then he can draw his own conclusions.

If a student wishes to subscribe to it, he should bring his nickel to Betty Backus in the Sem office. If among the first fifty subscribers, he will be sure of having the Roto-Review with his February 17 Sem. For all subscriptions after the first fifty the staff will try to have the section with the February 17 Sem.

For every picture sent from this high school which is printed in the Roto-Review, three dollars is received. The Photography Club will submit many of the pictures to be taken around the school.

Orchestra To Give Concert

A concert by the orchestra will be given under the direction of Mr. Roland Shafer, supervisor of music in the high school. This concert will start at 7:30, on Friday, Feb. 28.

The Harmonica Club was reorganized with eight members present. During their meeting they decided to make up combinations of old folk songs, western songs, and popular songs. The next meeting will be Wednesday, Feb. 5, third hour.

Other events will be the Twin Valley Association combined choruses under the direction of Dr. Mattern. The participants will be Wayne, Ecorse, River Rouge, Dearborn, Plymouth and Ypsilanti.

Annual Named "Senior Dixit"

"Senior Dixit" was the name decided upon for the senior annual, by the annual staff. The adoption of this name would save the annual staffs of the future the trouble of choosing a name each year. Ulrich Gress, editor-in-chief of the annual, states that the theme this year has not been definitely decided as yet, but that it will undoubtedly be designed along the line of athletic activities and the type will have a modernistic trend.

Dr. Ford Challenges Youth In Address

Speaking on the history of Michigan and its 100th anniversary, Dr. Ford, head of the modern language department at the Michigan State Normal College, entertained the students of the Ypsilanti High School in an assembly, Jan. 30.

The assembly was opened by a selection by the orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Schafer, followed by the singing of "Michigan, My Michigan", by the chorus.

Dr. Ford told of the hardships of the early life in Michigan. In describing the reasons why Michigan became a state he gave the credit to the pioneers, saying, "They lived with courage, they died with courage, and so Michigan became a state at last."

He spoke of the heritage left the youth of the country by the frontiersmen, and left the assembly with the challenge, "What are you going to do with your inheritance?"

Members Wanted

All students interested in joining a bird club, get in touch with Orrin Johnson who is organizing this club. He is glad to have as many members as possible.

The gymnasium was appropriately decorated to represent a snow-storm and in the corners of the room stood frost bedecked trees. The orchestra played on a platform surrounded by icicles and pine trees.

Moving Pictures Enlarge Student Council Fund

The moving pictures of Ypsilanti schools which were shown in the High School auditorium Tuesday, Jan. 14, netted the High School $18.14. This will go into the Student Council fund.

The agreement with the Universal Sound Service provided for 25% of the profits for the schools. Each member of the system received $\frac{1}{4}$ of the receipts of their ticket sale.

At both showings of the pictures the auditorium was practically filled.

Where There's A Will There's A Way!

"The time has come," the walrus said, "to talk of many things of shoes and ships and sealing wax and how you come out with semester exams, et cetera.

"For instance now, the underclassmen were lucky. If they flunked a subject it was too bad, of course. They probably heard a lot of dissertation by the head of the family. But consider the poor seniors. If one of them flunks civics—he can't graduate. So far not one senior has been discovered who lost out on that subject.

"The two days vacation certainly gave the student body a breathing space. Al Smith stated Saturday night that a breathing-space is a time allowed by a prize-fighter before he delivers the knock-out blow. Sounds cheerful, doesn't it?

At any rate everyone has a new start in a new semester. One can accomplish what he will, and where there's a will there's a way.

Don't Forget The J-Hop

Preparations for one of the largest social functions of the school year are under way. The J-Hop takes considerable planning.

Months ago the Juniors worked industriously on the penny supper, the project which enables them to financially sponsor this affair. All of the Juniors contributed to this either by their help or donations for the supper.

For the last few weeks reliable pupils representing the Junior Class in committees are putting their heads together in order to obtain unique ideas for decorations, music etc., to make the Hop a success.

When Feb. 21 rolls around plans will be made to such perfection that it is certain students will look back later with pleasure to the fine time they had at the J-Hop.

A large representation is expected to go to Charles McKenny Hall, Friday, Feb. 21 at 8:30 for the J-Hop sponsored by the class of '37.

Henry Rises To Remark

Dear Fellow Students, when, and if you are so unlucky as to be chosen to be on the cleanup committee: Please!!! be considerate enough to come down to our beautifully decorated gym (as it always is) and do your bit towards cleaning it up. It is not such a terrifically hard job as one might imagine. If all on the committee show up and work, it makes it that much easier for everyone else. When you stay away and figure that they won't miss just little you, it is going to cause irritations among those who have sacrificed some very good sleep to get down there. If everyone figured the same way no one would show up and that is exactly the thing that happened at our last Student Council party, and it caused our poor janitor very much grief and hard labor. So let's think over this matter, and when called henceforth, do your duty.

Germs Gathered By A Bit O' Grit

The Big Sissy

Bud Fuller seems to have been reading up on new coiffeurs. (Permanents and so forth to youse guys). Have you noticed the swell wave he has in his hair? Delmar Special $2.50.

Watch Her Smoke

Helen Batterson has shown the Roosevelt girls how to win over their handsome hero Bum Johnson. It sure takes Ypsi High to show them.

Cute Little Guy

Bob and Virginia had an argument over some potato chips which resulted into quite an argument. Bob insisted the potato chips had bugs in them and refused to eat. After many, many hours Clarence Goodsman came along and patched things up. (Can't you just picture Clarence as Cupid?)

No Orignality

Harry Haaxma, you are to blame for it in Ypsi High! What? Of course ear muffs! You'll learn there's no way of trying to be different in this school. Ralph Adams even bought a pair for his dog.

Speed

Eddie Morhous believes that the early worm catches the bird. He asked Helen Holleran about two weeks ago to go to the J-Hop with him. (We're a little late on our news). Quite a large couple, eh what?

Gone? Missed?

Have you noticed anything missing around school lately? Bob Shephard is vacationing in Miami, Florida.

He's At It Again

Ulrich Gress is one of the men who believes that variety is the spice of life. He is trying to get up courage to ask Mary Ann McKie to accompany him to the J-Hop. FLASH-FLASH He just popped the question and she answered "Yes." Oh Boy!

The Big Chisler

Lionel Fulton snatched Helen Tripp right out of Louis Everard's arms, by asking her for a date to the J-Hop. Was Lionel surprised when she accepted!

Hold It Dick

Dick Bibbins has been running around school lately with two bandaged fingers. Can that girl bite!

Stung?

Millie Harris, June Barkman, and Lou Hochrein have been attractel to three Normal College boys. One night as they were taking a little walk, Millie's friend froze an ear. Did he get stung!

Before or After

Betty Jellis spent the days, the rest of us were slaving over exams, in bed with the excuse of being sick. We were all taken sick after the exams.

Good Timing

Our school time schedule suits Andy Lennington O. K. He leaves school at three-thirty and by four o'clock is up to Roosevelt in time to escort Ruth Gauntlett home.

Knitting News

Margot Holzhauer started to knit herself a sweater about two months ago. She wore it for the first time Friday. Incidentally her mother finished it. Betty Squiers seems to have given up knitting.

THE BONER'S HOUR

Between the failure and passing,
When an "F" is beginning to lower
Comes a lapse in the cranium's efficiency

Which is known as the boner's hour.

Mr. Schimel corrected a test one day

On which was the following mistake

Which an up and coming young draughtsman

On his examination paper did make.

"What, my lad, is a dimension?"

The instructor had inquired.

"Tis a line tell now much you measure."

Oh, for sooth, the lad was surely inspired.

In the Latin department of this fair school

In the realm of that ancient tongue
No more are there cheers for a

Sophomore,

No more are his praises sung.

Miss Lidke had queried concerning the senate.

"If our government were the Roman kind,"

She asked, "of whom would the senate consist?"

"Of senators," answered the learned mind.

Many days of hungering and

Many days of sorrow and dread;
For the knowledge of bygone ages

Seems to have long been dead.
